A game with 7 rules
2 to 7 players, ages 7+ years
Length of play:..... sometimes 7 minutes

Contents of the game
- 80 cards
- 80 victory chips
- Game rules

Aim of the game
Whoever puts all their cards down first has won a round. Whoever has most chips at the end wins the game.

Setup
Before the first game the round discs (= victory chips) are carefully taken out of the cards and set aside for scoring. All of the cards are shuffled very well. Each player is dealt a hand of 7 concealed cards. The rest of the cards are placed face down in the middle of the table as a draw pile.

Gameplay - The 7 rules
1. The youngest player starts. He puts one of his cards face-up next to the draw pile and so starts the discard pile. Next he picks up a card from the draw pile. His turn is over.
2. Play continues in a clockwise direction and likewise each player puts a card on the discard pile. They decide whether they put their card down hole on hole or hole on number.
3. The total of both numbers, which can be seen on the top card on the discard pile, must be higher than or the same as every card put down thereafter. The number 7 may not be exceeded.
4. After playing a card the player immediately draws a card from the draw pile. Exception: By laying down the card the player has reached a total of 7. Instead of picking up a card he calls out „Seven“.
5. When the total reaches 7 the discard pile is always put to the side. The player who called out „Seven“ starts a new discard pile by putting down a card. Even now he does not draw another card.
6. If a player cannot take their go because it would either be lower than the preceding total or would create a total that is greater than 7, then he has to pick up a penalty card from the draw pile. He is not allowed to lay down any cards in this round.
7. The player who lays down their cards first and reaches the total of 7 with their last card wins the round. The other players continue to play until only one player remains with cards in their hand.

If a new draw pile is needed, the cards that were put to the side are shuffled to form the new draw pile.

Scoring
The winner of a round receives as many chips as there are players at the table. The player in second place receives the same amount less one, and so on.

With 2, 3 or 4 players the overall winner is declared after 7 rounds. With 5, 6 or 7 players the game continues until all of the victory chips have been handed out.
