

NSV invites you to play – for a good cause, for fun, and digitally

From October 3rd to 6th, the SPIEL in Essen invites everyone to the world's most important gathering of the board game community. In Hall 5 at booth C416, visitors can check out the latest offerings from Nürnberger-Spielkarten-Verlag (NSV). At the gaming tables set up there, you can try out both the newest releases and some hidden gems from the publisher. If a game instantly wins you over, you can buy it directly at the booth at a special convention price. Beyond just the games, NSV has a few more activities planned for this year.

Charity under the motto “Games for new games”

Inspired by the fall release CHARIDICE, NSV is running a charity event throughout the four days of the fair to benefit the Ronald McDonald House Charities. The foundation operates 23 Ronald McDonald Houses across Germany, offering temporary homes near children's hospitals for families with seriously ill children. Additionally, six Ronald McDonald Family Rooms provide a place to retreat within the hospital for a bit of comfort.

To support this cause, all you have to do is play one of NSV's games at their booth. For every two games played, the publisher will donate a game from its collection. The total number of donated games will be distributed equally among all the Ronald McDonald Houses and Family Rooms.

Meet the creators and spin the prize wheel

Not only might you discover a new game at NSV's booth, but you could also meet the designer behind it. Several NSV game designers will be present during the fair, including Jürgen Adams, the creator of CHARIDICE, and Hartwig Jakubik, who designed the spring release SIDEBOARDS. Stefan Nikolic (SPLITTER) and Moritz Dressler (SPUKSTABEN) will also be stopping by.

Another good reason to visit the booth is every day at 5 PM, when the prize wheel has its appearance. Each spin guarantees the visitor a small prize to take home. The grand prize is a copy of the Flip & Write game SILVER & GOLD PYRAMIDS.

Test new games, rediscover old treasures

For the first time this year at SPIEL, there will be a collaboration between NSV and Bicycle® Cards, as sister brands under Cartamundi Entertainment. This family-owned company, headquartered in Belgium, is a global leader in playing cards and "play" solutions. Along with NSV and Bicycle®, Cartamundi's portfolio includes heritage brands that date back to 1848, global names like Copag® and Grimaud, as well as popular local publishers like ASS Altenburger.

Bicycle® Playing Cards have been bringing people together for over 130 years in the name of good games and great company. Masters of magic like David Copperfield and David Blaine love them for their perfect handling, and they're also celebrated worldwide across generations for their beautiful, elegant designs.

In the specially designed Bicycle Lounge, not only fans can admire the latest editions. Anyone can discover just how many games can be played with a deck of cards. If you're looking to refresh your lineup of go-to card games, this is the place to be. There's never been a better time to shuffle the deck and start a game!

NSV is also breaking new ground in the digital world. Later in October, the publisher will release its first game on Board Game Arena. It starts with the well-known dice game KNISTER. More details will be shared at the booth during the fair.

"It's going to be an exciting fall for NSV, and board game fans have a lot to look forward to. Our involvement at SPIEL is meant to showcase that as best as possible," summarizes General Manager Tobias Husch. Curious visitors can find the booth in Hall 5 at number C416.
